

Family and friends can now participate in live funeral services even when they cannot attend in person with our new, interactive online service offering. Whether attending the service, reading a poem or eulogizing your loved one, everyone can honor the memory of your loved one. Plus, you can now come together virtually as a family to make arrangements.

This option allows family members from multiple locations to collaborate online while making funeral arrangements with the funeral director.

This unique offering can provide an online outlet for a wide range of end-of-life events -- including funerals, burials, wakes, or memorial services -- at a time when families need a way to memorialize their loved ones and show support and love for the grieving family.
